Schedule Smarter

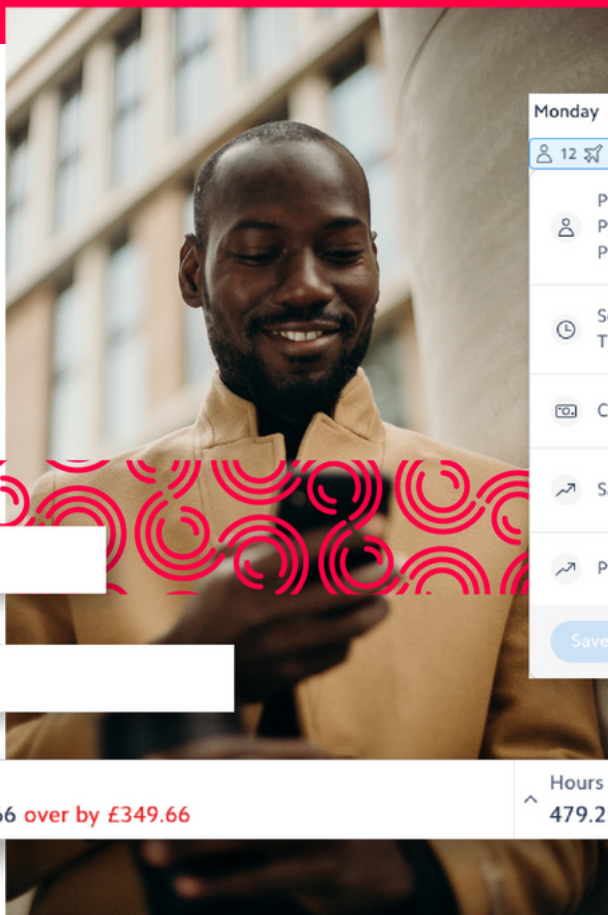

Whether you're at head office analysing labour spend across all your locations from a desktop, a manager creating an optimised schedule from a tablet, or a front-line employee requesting annual leave from a smartphone, Rotageek provides an amazing user experience on a modern workforce management platform built with ease-of-use in mind.

Digital Scheduling

The core of Rotageek's workforce management solution is a cloud-based platform built to modernise what has previously been done on paper and spreadsheets. With core features such as shift patterns, predefined shifts, drag-and-drop functionality, and copy-week options, creating schedules has never been easier. And Rotageek's web-responsive solution provides a seamless experience across desktop, tablet and mobile so your teams can create, edit and view schedules on the go.

- Reduce schedule-related admin by up to 80%
- Provide central visibility to labour spend and allocation across your entire estate
- Ensure proper coverage by broadcasting available shifts to employees at my or nearby locations

Autoscheduling

At the click of a button, an optimised, fair, compliant and on-budget schedule is created in as little as 30 seconds, taking into account the needs of the business and employees. Unlike other solutions that create a set of ideal shifts and then tries to fill them, Rotageek truly optimises schedules by creating and assigning shifts in tandem, generating millions of combinations of schedules and only proposing a final schedule where every shift is assigned to an employee. And if it can't it tells you.

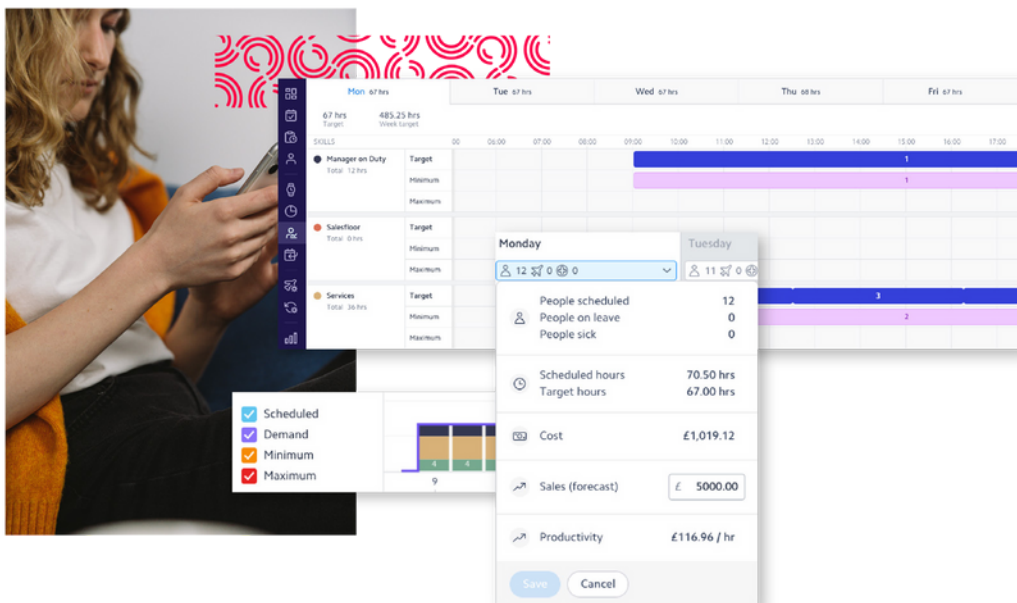

- Create optimised, compliant rotas in seconds and reduce scheduling admin
- Ensure minimum and target skill coverage to deliver exceptional service
- Increase employee satisfaction through codified fairness rules

Forecasting

With Rotageek's data driven forecasting algorithms, schedule-makers no longer have to trust their intuition to align labour with demand. Rotageek's AI-driven forecasting engine uses historic data, recent trends and key events, to accurately predict the labour demand for each task by location and in 15 minute increments.

- Improve labour to demand alignment by up to 25% compared to traditional methods
- Increase sales, average transaction value, conversion rate and NPS scores through smarter labour alignment
- Create even smarter schedules by using unique data points to forecast different tasks within a location

Mobile App

Stay connected to your workforce with the Rotageek iOS and Android mobile app. It's loaded with self-service features to empower your employees to own their schedules. With the ability to view their schedules and leave balances, request leave, update availability and preferences, along with dropping and swapping shifts, employees will feel in control of their work/life balance. Push notifications keep employees in-the-know as schedules are approved, shifts become available and leave request's statuses change.

- Increase employee engagement by utilising the device already in their pocket
- Help employees arrive on-time with shift reminder push notifications
- Empower employees to own their schedule and leave through simple self-service features

Leave & Absence Management

Ditch paper request forms and digitise annual leave accruals to give HR teams oversight of this important entitlement. Go beyond annual leave and track other leave types including sickness, maternity/paternity, jury duty, compassion and any other configurable leave type. With Rotageek, managers can easily view, approve or reject leave requests for assigned employees across their locations.

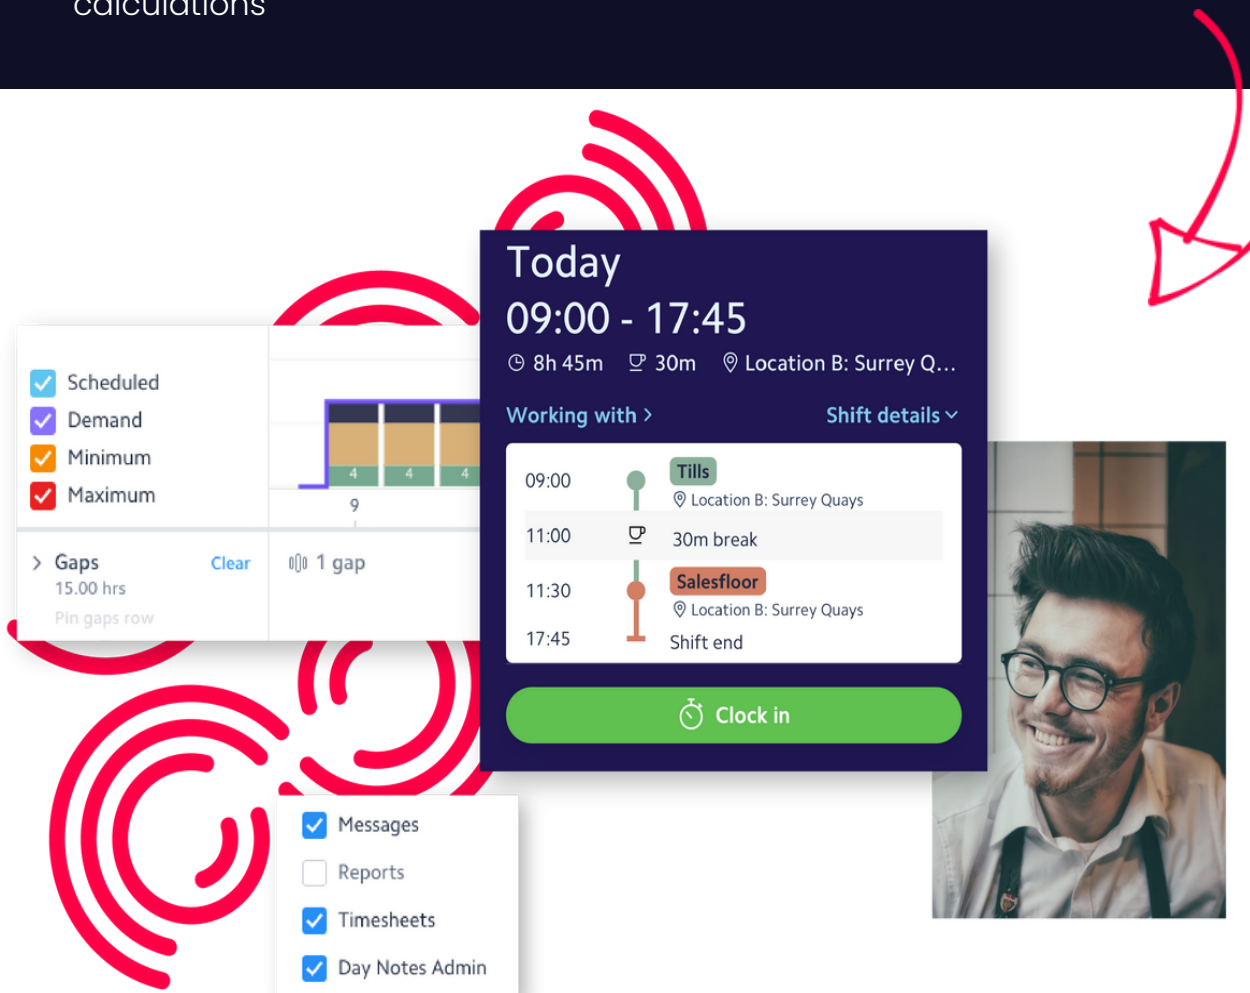

- Remove duplicate processes by automatically updating approved leave on the schedule
- Configure rules unique to your organisation to prevent too many employees being off at the same time
- Staff can see their leave balances via the app, with options to add notes or attachments to support leave requests

Time & Attendance

Our time and attendance solution used is alongside digital scheduling to support managers to create rotas with confidence. Using geolocation, geofencing or photo ID on our mobile app, or biometric devices on site, staff can clock in and out with ease. Managers can maintain a real-time view of who's on the clock at any location from the dashboard, and processing timesheets at the end of the period is even easier with rounding rules to automatically account for early and late clock ins and outs.

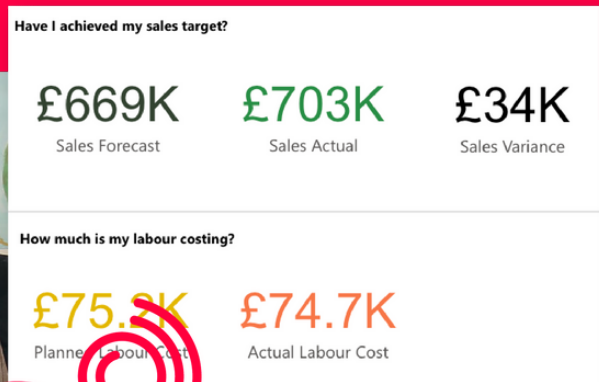

- Mobile, on premise and biometric options for employees to clock in and out of shifts.
- Reduce time theft with accurate timesheets that are created from the schedules you produce and incorporate clocking in and out times
- Send approved timesheets directly to payroll for error free wage calculations

Insights

Rotageek's powerful reporting capability is customisable in real-time, providing a deep understanding of your workforce. Analyse your people data your way, to measure the metrics that matter to your business. Run reports quickly and accurately, negating hours of prep, number crunching or uncertainty.

- Drill down into data on shifts enabling you to ascertain shifts that are regularly dropped, swapped or claimed
- Analyse labour spend in real-time to enable you to make timely interventions to balance budgets with productivity
- Report on time and attendance to spot team strengths and weaknesses, time theft and gauge individual performance
