

Willowbrook Medical Practice partners with Rotageek for staff scheduling

Rotageek, the leading provider of data-driven scheduling technology, has been chosen by Willowbrook Medical Practice as their staff rostering solution.

Willowbrook Medical Practice chose Rotageek's workforce management tool to schedule their General Practitioners. The focus of this partnership is on skill-based scheduling, ensuring that all the necessary specialties are on shift when and where they are needed.

Rotageek's solution provides Willowbrook with increased visibility over their room bookings, GPs shifts, and leave. Doing so will ensure increased accuracy and usability, enabling a more efficient service for patients and a better experience for employees. Rotageek's focus on interactive platforms ensures that any scheduling related requests such as shift swaps are simple, live, and easily communicated.

Willowbrook rolled out with Rotageek in Q2, 2019. The roll out process took one day, from signing the contract to user training and adoption.

Kate Mallatratt, Resource Lead at Willowbrook, commented: "I am pleased to be working with Rotageek to help streamline our GP rota planning. I tried a few solutions but none of them had everything we needed. With Rotageek being healthcare born, they already had an idea of what we required and were able to get us up and running with minimal effort on our part. We now have an efficient, user-friendly system which is tailored to our surgery's requirements and also removes the need to use multiple online and paper-based systems, minimising the risk of mistakes occurring. We have received superb customer service right from initial contact with Rotageek to signing up, and have found the online help to be very efficient and friendly."

Chris McCullough, CEO and Co-Founder at Rotageek, added: "We're delighted to be working with Willowbrook Medical Practice. Rotageek was born in healthcare - 10 years ago when I was a doctor working in A&E. The whole Rotageek team is really passionate about creating optimal scheduling solutions for healthcare. This partnership with Willowbrook brings us right back to our founding mission, and I'm excited to see how we will help the practice improve both employee and patient experience".
